

Awesome Science Media Presents:

The Flood Geology Series

"The Great Missoula Flood: Modern Day Evidence for the Worldwide Flood" Documentary

Documentary Summary

Meteorologist Michael Oard takes you on a tour down the path of the Missoula Flood, from Montana to Oregon. He presents evidence for only one Missoula Flood happening catastrophically at the end of the Ice Age. Michael addresses the controversy of the Missoula Flood from when Bretz first proposed it back in the 1920's to present day. He also presents evidence for only one Ice Age caused by the Global Flood only a few thousand years ago. Finally, he shares how we can use the Missoula Flood to recognize geologic features around the world caused by the global Flood. DVD comes with a Digital HD version accessed through ChristianCinema.com.

The Flood Geology Series Summary

This series takes leading scientists in the field of geology, chemistry, and meteorology and explores evidence for the global Flood around the world. Instead of speaking in a lecture hall or church, these scientists venture out to the geological locations to show the viewer first hand the evidence for how the Flood impacted the earth in a catastrophic manner. Scientists include Dr. Steve Austin, Michael Oard, and Dennis Bokovoy.
